Monuments Commemorating Great Engineering Fent Unveiled Before Many Thousands.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 22.-The completion of the Galveston sea wall, the great est structure of its kind in the world, was calebrated to-day by running excursions from different parts of the State to Galveston. Governor Lanham made a culogistic address, commenting on the remarkable work which has been accomplished tage from its unequaled position as a city and its up-to-date American port. It is the railroad center nearest to the new Panama Canal and the natural outlet for the commerce of nearly one-half the United States. The sea wall was completed the last of July, and two granite monuments erected at the foot of Tremont street to commemcrate the completion of the wall. These monumens were unveiled to-day.

YOUNG WIFE'S BODY @ STILL IN RIVER

Efforts to Locate Mrs. Harry R. Wright, Who Was Drowned in Meramec, Futile.

After dragging the Meramec River for twenty-four hours, the body of Mrs. Harry R. Wright was not recovered last night, and no trace of the woman has been found since she sank below the surface at 250 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She was in the cance which bore her husband and Clyde Bryant, which overturned at the rapids ear Hoffman Springs, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright left their home at No. 4048 Laciede avenue early Sunday morning for Crescent, Mo., where awaited them a canoe rented for the day from Harry Arnold of the Meramec Canoe Club, them a canoe rented for the day from Harry Arnold of the Meramec Canoe Club, and where Bryant, who lives in Webster Groves, joined them. About the middle of the morning the trio embarked on the canoe and started down the stream for a day of pleasure.

Wright and Bryant handled the paddles, while Mrs. Wright, in the center seat, enjoyed the Sunday quiet and soothing pleasures as the canoe gilded along.

After a step for lunch and rest after a trip of ten miles downstream, the party rembarked for the continuation of the trip, which would take them among the rapids. This time, however, Mrs. Wright was permitted to handle one of the paddles, and occupying the seat in the center. The rains had increased the depth of the river, and where under ordinary circumstances it was only two or three feet to the bed of the stream, eight or nine feet of water rushed over the rocks and stumps of trees which underlie the surface.

Just as the canoe was entering the switter currents, the course changed. At that moment Mrs. Wright turned around in the canoe and passed her paddle to her husband, seated in the center. The act destroyed the equilibrium of the light little shell, and before the spectators on the bank could cry out the canoe had overturned and the three were plunged below the surface.

Wright came up ten feet down the river and a second later Bryan appeared a few feet further on. The force of the current swept them to the bank, and as soon as they could recover breath they dashed on down the bank and swam out to reach the overturned canoe, which was thought to conceal Mrs. Wright. Combatting the swift flowing river they righted the boat, but no trace of the missing woman appeared. They then embarked again in the canoe and proceeded to Valley Park, where directions were given to set dragnets.

Mrs. Wright was 19 years old and was married to Harry R. Wright at Chloo.
